

Internship Opportunity

Job Description

Korys is the investment structure of the Colruyt family, a unique place for motivated students or young graduates to acquire the skills and experience to kickstart their career as investment professionals. Korys focuses on three investment themes:

- Energy Transition: renewable energy assets and innovative companies providing enabling technologies and services
- Conscious Consumer: consumer companies that offer products and services that are convenient and responsible from a social, environmental or health perspective
- Healthy Living: innovative companies across prevention, diagnosis and treatment of diseases.

We combine expertise in both private and listed assets. This synergy is a key strength of our organisation. We are therefore looking for interns to join our:

- Liquid investments team: public equity investments
- Direct Investments teams: private equity investments with 3 dedicated teams, each focused on a different investment theme

As an intern you will participate to all phases of the investment cycle:

- Map specific industries: industry dynamics and drivers, technologies/products/services, identify players of interest
- Screen and evaluate investment opportunities (market, position and strategy of the company, financial analysis, sustainability and valuation)
- Prepare internal presentations and documents for investment decisions
- Assist during the transactional processes
- Support portfolio companies in realizing their objectives

Job Qualifications

A successful candidate for this internship will have the following characteristics:

- A high level of motivation and strong interest in investments and business strategy
- Bachelor or higher in economics, finance, business administration or science (pharmacology, bio-engineering, biology, biotechnology...)
- Fluency in English, knowledge of Dutch or French is a plus
- Enthusiastic, open-minded, flexible and eager to learn. Team player with strong interpersonal skills. Down-to-earth attitude, willingness to roll up the sleeves with ability to work autonomously.
- Previous internship experience in a relevant field is a plus
